Wilderness in NY State

Wild and scenic, remote and quiet...when you consider what's at the other end of the spectrum (developed, blighted, congested, noisy), it's no wonder many yearn to experience wilderness occasionally, or at least to feel secure in the knowledge that such places exist and are accessible to them. Fortunately for us, New York State is well-endowed with areas that are truly "forever wild."

Of course, valuing wilderness does not mean that we are anti-development. We simply understand the need for balance between the two. And when development or misuse threatens to obliterate the last remaining areas of wilderness, we feel compelled to preserve these wild areas, with all their wondrous diversity of plant and animal life.

Sometimes this requires expenditures of money. But once in a while, an opportunity arises to preserve wilderness simply by making the choice to do so - or persuading authorities to make that choice. Two cases in point:

- The New York State Canal Corporation announced last October that it will transfer 719 acres of former reservoir land to the DEC, to await classification by the Adirondack Park Agency. ADK could support proposals to classify these acres, plus approximately 25,000 surrounding acres of the Black River Wild Forest, as Wilderness, since the land meets the standards for wilderness. ADK members who already hike here report that the land has "outstanding opportunities for solitude" despite its proximity to the Utica area, and deserves protection before overuse occurs. Let us hope the authorities choose Wilderness as the designation.

- In Keene Valley, a Temporary Revocable Permit has been granted by DEC, for the second year in a row, authorizing an organized competitive trail running event in which runners will pass along trails in the Giant Wilderness area. Many people question the advisability of such an event taking place in a Wilderness Area, considering this to be a misuse of wilderness lands. Vigilance is required to protect what we have. Stay tuned for developments.

In the National Parks as well as in New York Forest Preserve, there is pressure from competing user groups. Many want to see the Wild Forests opened to some form of motorized use. Land managers must choose between preservation through strict regulations, or loosening restrictions to allow new uses, which may be noisy and polluting.

Personally, I sure hope they choose to preserve and carefully protect the wild land we still have.

Board of Directors Meeting Report for March 11, 2006

The Board of Directors meeting was held on March 11 at ADK headquarters in Lake George. As has become the tradition in recent years, the club's annual meeting was held from 9am until 10am. This short meeting was immediately followed by the Board of Directors meeting. This report combines information from the two meetings. Another director's meeting is scheduled for June 24, so by the time this is published we will have had another meeting.

We were addressed by Curt Miller, ADK's President. Curt did the best he could but he has been having a great deal of difficulty speaking as he is suffering from myasthenia gravis, a chronic autoimmune neuromuscular disease. He had available a handout that answered some general questions about myasthenia gravis. In the May-June Adirondac Curt writes about his values and beliefs and, briefly, how these relate to his life with this condition.

Finances: Our previously elected treasurer, Mike Durant, has moved to Florida; Tom Wheeler, our former president, has taken over this position. In 2005 ADK had a $98,000 operating loss, however, the club actually ended up $105,000 in the black because of the $180,000 Slater Charitable Trust donation which will provide funding for educational programs. Progress has been made in paying down the debt so the financial picture is much stronger as we go through 2006.

Executive Director: Neil Woodworth spoke about his visits to various chapters during the past year. He was encouraged by the vitality of chapter activities and especially the chapter outings. The individual chapters are extremely important in retaining old members and gaining new members. ADK will work on a Forest Preserve grant to inventory forest preserve land. One objective of this project is to produce digital maps of forest areas.

Neil spoke with pride about ADK's participation in the Clean Air Act lawsuit brought against the EPA and the roles that he and Conservation Director Marisa Tedesco have played in the suit.

DEC and ADK continue to talk about the proposed Visitor Service Facility (VSF), to be built on the edge of the Heart Lake property. Recalling six years of VSF plans/no plans and another very complete Master Plan approved in 1992, I asked, "Is this actually going to happen?" "50/50," answered Neil. We await further developments.

Membership: Director Joe Silberlicht reported that the membership has increased this year from 16,000 to 17,000. The renewal rate has also been improved; we are retaining four out of five members.

ADK Loj: The former 18-person bunk room is now the 12-person "LOFT." The new beds are great, each with a box spring and mattress. During this past end-of-March work weekend, shelves for small items were put by each bed. The other major improvement was in the downstairs four/six person bunk rooms, where slanted wide-step ladders now make the climb to the top bunks very easy. The cook situation remains excellent with two cooks, Mel and Susie, competing to put out great meals. Not only do they cook, but they also joined all the volunteers after dinner to sing. Susie has been a professional country singer and Mel sings and plays the guitar.

President's Dinner: The President's Award was presented to Tom Andrews, chair of the Heart Lake Property Committee. Tom truly deserves this award for all the work he has done for both the Loj and JBL. He has organized work weekends for the past 15 years or more, and his enthusiasm, knowledge, and organization have drawn many talented workers to the volunteer weekends held twice a year. He also has organized and worked on special projects like the replacement of the sill plate on the Loj.

I urge everyone to visit or stay in one of our wonderful North Country facilities.
Aleda Koehn, Director

Trails Report

Trail work this year can be summed up as SMOOTH. Plenty of people turned out. Twenty-one at Arnold Lake and 16 at Walton. Tools were sharp and dexterously applied. Chain saw started promptly and only threw the chain once. Some one has been helping at Arnold Lake. We saw evidence of cleanup by other (unknown) parties (may their tribe increase). The only cloud in this sun-filled sky is the west end of the railroad bed trail on the beautiful West Branch which is still a user-designated dump site. An annoying fact is the proximity of the Delaware County landfill only a stone's throw away. Scheesh!

Outings Past, Outings Future

Trip reports

Saturday, May 6 Barbara Meeks and I led one of the two hikes scheduled as part of activities for the Earth Day festival. Our 1:30pm hike at Arnold Lake State Forest consisted of four people. Our focus was on spring wildflowers. Luckily, we had an active, inquisitive four-year-old along. He made our walk lively and interesting. Rita Salo

Tuesday, May 9 through Thursday, May 11 Nine people ventured to our camp at Beaver River on Stillwater Reservoir. We arrived in Stillwater around 11am, unloaded our gear and took the Water Taxi as far as Loon Lake. At Loon Lake, seven of us went ashore. When Rusty, our taxi driver, and John Salo and Charlie Koenig tried to start off for the camp, the motor wouldn't start. They had to call for a tow. Meanwhile, the rest of us ate our lunch in an open area overlooking the lake. We walked the three miles to camp, where John and Charlie had already settled in.

Our Wednesday hike was "The Red Horse" trail, which starts at Trout Pond on the reservoir and goes for five miles to Salmon, Witchopple, and Clear Lakes. Monica and Irv Peters walked the farthest. We cooked hot dogs and ate lunch at a lean-to by Trout Pond, which is cared for by ADK lean-to adopters. Rusty picked us up with the boat. We all went out on Thursday on the "River Boat" which was due to be inspected that day by the Coast Guard. Lots of good fun. Rita Salo

The May 16th ADK outing at Rod and Sally Hebbard's had 33 hikers. It was rainy but we hiked about three miles and saw many wild flowers going through meadows. We had beautiful but foggy views of the mountains. We will have everyone back on a clear day. The hike ended at our wonderful pond and we ate lunch in our home, where the hosts served cookies and ice cream. We all had a great day. Sally & Rod Hebbard

The Tuesday after Memorial Day saw 20 people assembled in Neahwa Park, curious about how to access New Island. The area was named in honor of the late SUCO Biology professor Dr. New, who was a long-time environmental activist. The area was an island when Oneonta was creating electricity from water stored in a reservoir between the Susquehanna River and the town. Now it remains cut off from ready access by I-88. We parked at one of the three semi-legal access areas and hiked the two and a half mile round trip rail trail now maintained by physical education Professor Al Sosa and his mountain biking classes. We lunched in a lovely picnic spot by the river near the missing railroad bridge. This bridge will have to be replaced if this section of the proposed Greenway is ever to be connected to Fortin Park, another mile or so out into the town. Lucille Wiggin

Blue Ridge Week-end August 4-6, 2006

Joe and Nina Hart will lead a weekend of activities in the Blue Ridge Wilderness Area August 4 to 6, 2006. We have reserved two campsites at Lake Durant Campground for the nights of Friday the 4th and Saturday the 5th. Each campsite will hold a maximum of six people and two vehicles; additional vehicles may be parked in the public parking area. One campsite will accommodate a 30-foot camper, but there are no hook-ups. The sites are close to restrooms and showers. Campers will be responsible for their own meals or sharing meal preparation.

Another choice for participants is to stay at a bed-and-breakfast in Indian Lake or Blue Mountain Lake. All participants will convene at the campground on Friday evening and make plans for each day's hikes and paddles. The possibilities range from easy to more challenging, so everyone can be accommodated; see Enjoying the Blue Ridge Wilderness (if you don't have a copy, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Nina at P.O. Box 111, Franklin, NY 13775).

Campground costs will be between $10 and $20 per person for the weekend, depending on the number of participants. Campers must register with Joe and Nina with a $10 deposit per person by Friday, July 21. Preference will be given to campers planning to spend both nights; if there are unfilled places, reservations for one night may be accepted.

Come and explore this beautiful wilderness area and see first-hand how our chapter's adoption of it has contributed to the state's plans for it. Joe and Nina Hart 829-8358

Winter Weekends Past and Future at Adirondack Loj

Twelve Susquehanna ADKers had a wonderful time at the Loj the last weekend in January. There was enough snow for some of the group to ski up to Marcy Dam and beyond on Saturday; others went to Van Hoevenberg to use the groomed trails there. The weather had turned warm so by Sunday we decided to snowshoe. The group had a wonderful walk through the woods to Marcy Dam. One of us, not wanting to break with tradition, went all the way to Avalanche Lake. Great meals, great company!

I invite new members to check out ADK's premier North Country facility. I know you will enjoy the experience. We used to go every September for a weekend of hiking and hanging out in the late summer woods of the High Peaks. By this time most of the insects are gone, the weather is not too hot or cold and the smell of early fall is in the air. I would like to set this up if I can get some interested participants.

I was considering September 8-10, 2006, but the following weekend might also be a possibility. And I have 16 places reserved for January 26-28, 2007. Please call me if you are at all interested. Aleda Koehn 432-8870

Odds and Ends from the Chair

EARTH DAY was a big success with about 500 people visiting the first effort in several years and held at Milford Central School as a central Otsego County location. Susan O'Handley of Wildlife Learning Company spearheaded the operation with major help from Otsego County Conservation Association's Martha Clarvoe, Amy P. of Cooperstown Middle School, as well as our own ADKers Rae Consigli of Daylily Dreams B&B and new member Sally Goddard. At least a dozen members helped Rita Salo and I staff our display and lead the wildflower hikes conducted by Rita, Jo Koenig and Barb Meeks. The hikes were not well attended due to the rain and afternoon temperatures dropping to 45 degrees. Everyone who helped also had a great time exploring the other displays. Most fascinating of these were the two fish tanks, one with local fish and one with marine invertebrates. Also of great interest were the local raptors, so up close and personal. Thanks to all who came.

HARVEST MOON MADNESS is an all-club fund raiser held for the last in several years in early November in Saratoga. Each year our Chapter contributes a basket of local items which is then auctioned off to benefit club projects. We wish to belatedly thank our contributors Bob and Rea Consigli for a weekend at their Day Lilly Dreams B & B in Cooperstown, Soap Rocks of Oneonta for their innovative soaps, and the Farmers Museum of Cooperstown for a year of passes. And only recently known to us, chapter member Stan Hall of Milford has sponsored the evening by supplying his Cooperstown Brewing Company beer to the event. We thank him for his contributions and invite him to our meetings.

A NUMBER OF NEW MEMBERS have recently volunteered to lead hikes. We thank them for jobs well done and we encourage encores.

WALKS AND PADDLES, our very popular guide to local hiking and paddling locations co-authored with Otsego County Conservation Association, is in need of a reprint. Our chapter board voted to contribute $500 to that good cause.

WE ALSO VOTED $300 for the ongoing maintenance of the Adirondack Loj at Heart Lake. Depending on our finances, later in the year we may decide to contribute more to ADK.

Email and Website

USING EMAIL TO CONTACT MEMBERS has become an important tool for your chapter officers and committee chairs to send notification about important issues, events and last minute changes. If you wish to be included in this network please be sure to send me your current email address. My new email address is jokoening@stny.rr.com. I have attempted to contact members by telephone when I repeatedly receive the message that the address is no longer valid. If I receive no reply I eventually remove your name from the group.

ALTHOUGH YOU MAY HAVE INCLUDED YOUR EMAIL ADDRESS when you became a member or when you renewed your membership, the list sent to us from the ADK main office contains unreadable incomplete information. We have repeatedly attempted to have them correct this with no success. So, it is up to you to make sure you are getting the chapter information by sending me your email address.

HAVE YOU CHECKED OUR WEBSITE RECENTLY? The address is www.susqadk.org. On the "What's New" page recent photos of activities can be found. I am always looking for outdoor and chapter news, and pictures, and the more material I receive, the more frequently I can change the page. Jo Koenig

IF YOU WISH TO RECEIVE YOUR FOOT-LOOSE NEWSLETTERS BY EMAIL and at the same time help the chapter save printing and postage costs, please send an email to susquehannaadk@aol.com.
